The Book Fair is back!

Thursday 20th January 2022

Dear Parent,

We are really excited to announce that the Book Fair will be returning to school next week. This is a fantastic opportunity to browse some new titles for home whilst earning new books for our school. For every new book sold at the book fair, a book is donated by Scholastic back into our school libraries.

In previous years, we have regularly managed to raise just over £1000 pounds which contributes to keeping our library stock up-to-date.

The Book Fair will be in school from Wednesday 26th January with the last opportunity to buy on Tuesday 1st February. It will be open after school daily from 3.15 – 4.15pm.

In order to allow everyone to access the book fair as safely as possible, we are limiting the numbers of adults and children inside the hall to 20 at any one time. A queueing system will be in place to ensure this is adhered to. On the day, please follow the signs around school to the entrance of the book fair.

To ensure that all the children have had plenty of time to browse the books, each class will be visiting the bookfair during the school day. This will give the children ample time to read blurbs and decide which books they are most interested in.

We will also be operating a cashless system again this year. Your purchases will be noted down and totalled up, you will be able to take the books home with you straight away and then pay for them on Arbor.

We can't wait to see you there.

Many thanks, in advanced, for your on-going support in raising funds for our new books,

Miss Simms and Miss Smith
