Reading with your child on a daily basis doesn't have to be sitting down and painfully reading the same book again and again! Here are a few games and ideas to play at home:

- Snakes and ladders using sounds/words.
- Tricky word bingo.
- Yes/no game. (Read a sentence and then answer using yes/no cards.)
- What's in the box? (Simple objects and words to match.)
- Reading really small words with a magnifying glass.
- Phonic Jigsaw- sounds and pictures.
- Quick write - how many words can you spell in one minute?
- Tricky word stepping stones/hopscotch.
- Quick read – as quick write!
- Phonic snap/pairs.
- I spy with my little eye...

Please come and see us if you need any resources or further inspiration. Reading games really do make a difference.

Have fun!

Miss Stansfield and Mrs Meredith
